Helping You Make It Happen!

The Need for a miniMBA

High potential employees, emerging from their technical functions urgently require strong business acumen, sound judgement and effective people skills to grow and succeed. Entrepreneurs and small businesses leaders may not have the time nor the opportunity to complete a university MBA program. This is where the AMP becomes a valuable asset to both the emerging leader and the company where he/she works.

AMP: The Right Fit at the Right Time

What You Can Expect

The AMP accelerates the leadership development process by providing an exceptional opportunity for both personal and professional growth; one that empowers promising young managers to think strategically, manage cross functionally and lead with confidence.

Collaborating with accomplished peers, guest speakers from top companies, and a TPMG Leadership Coach, AMP participants will acquire the leadership skills and business acumen to grow and succeed at higher levels of responsibility. While immersed in the AMP, participants will learn to:

- Evaluate a company's performance by analyzing its financial statements and recognizing important strengths and red flags
- Translate corporate and business unit strategies by understanding industry and market forces
- Learn how to transform operational capabilities into more productive assets to create and sustain exceptional value
- Advance personal leadership skills to build and lead a high-performance culture
- Apply new approaches to work with and through others to systematically deliver favorable results and positive outcomes
- Improve critical thinking skills in order to make sound judgments, good business decisions and solve problems
- Become a very skilled presenter and communicator
